The independent voice of the Oakwood community

May 18, 2010

That Day in May 2010

It was a beautiful day for Oakwood's annual That Day in May festivities. A pancake breakfast prepared by the Oakwood Rotary got things off to a great start, followed by the Fun Run and then the 5K and 10K Runs. A community parade followed by the Battle of the Bands, a car show plus games and rides for the kiddies made for a memorable fun-filled day. The annual event is organized and presented by the City of Oakwood in conjunction with the Oakwood Rotary Club. Many more pictures of That Day in May will posted at our website: www.oakwoodregister.com

CAREWalk raises $16,000 for breast cancer battle

Approximately 800 walkers, runners, and volunteers participated in the 9th Annual Breast Cancer 5K CARE Walk held on Sat., May 8, and raised more than $16,000 with more monies coming in. Mayor Bill Duncan welcomed everyone to Oakwood and CARE Walk and praised the CARE Walk team for raising over $100,000 since its beginning in 2001; and former mayor Judy Cook, a breast cancer survivor of 25+ years, led the crowd in the countdown to start them on their way. Kirsten Halling, a professor, mom, and currently undergoing treatment for breast cancer, delivered a moving message to the crowd before the walk. The team is continuing to support the Breast Cancer Foundation and Breast Cancer Task Force of the Greater Miami Valley and their Breast Cancer Awareness Video Scholarship Contest, which will be launched on September 1, and open to local high school students.

High-end furniture store starts up

The Designer's Consignment offers high-end furniture and furnishings

Todd Schear is a businessman with a plan...or as the case may be, a couple of plans. The 26-year-old entrepreneur graduated from Oakwood High School in 2002 and hasn't stopped moving since.

During the week, he has a 9 to 5 career working in insurance - life, auto, home, etc... But on the weekends his workweek doesn't stop as he has begun a new sideline in the world of couture furniture.

His newest venture, The Designer's Consignment located at 2383 S. Dixie Dr., is a furniture store replete with high end pieces - Ralph Lauren, Century, and more than a few custom suites as well. A few antiques are also thrown into the mix as well. Interior designers are the primary sources for the furniture and furnishings that stock his store..

"Virtually everything here comes from Oakwood homes," Schear said. He offers great terms for designers who bring him items in which to stock his store with. While most stores offer a 60/40 split in favor of the merchandiser, Schear offers a more equitable 50/50 break, which he believes has brought him plenty of business from the supply end.

The furniture is essentially brand new but marked down an appreciable amount below retail. The store is open Friday through Sunday 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Schear also has a website at www.the-designersconsignment.com.

'Round Town

Last Monday the Central States District Rep. for the Master's Assoc. of North America came to 'inspect' the kennels of the Miami Valley Hunt. Joe Kent has been Master of the Metamora Hunt in Oxford, Michigan (north of Detroit) for ten years and is now a director of the MFHA. "I have to be in Lexington on business and thought this would be a great time to 'visit' you," said Joe over dinner at the Pine Club.

Diedre Koik, Jt. MFH of the MVH has the kennels on her farms in Champaign County near Urbana...and they were 'spotless' and ready for a looking-over! All hounds were obviously delighted with the 'visitor' – but disappointed by not being taken 'on-walk' – cause it was gusty-windy-rainy-muddy and though everyone was in bad-weather-gear it was decided to take Diedre's 4X4 for inspecting the adjacent hunt country.

"It's almost noon and I've brought box-lunches from Dorothy Lane Market in Oakwood for our gourmet lunch!" So the three sat in Koik's house 'dining' – with an excellent view of the kennels. Joe Kent said Metamora has the same number of hounds...approximately the same number of subscribers... but Miami Valley Hunt has a much brighter future than Metamora... the economy has caused so many young professionals to leave the Detroit area...but we're hanging-in and hoping for an upturn..."

"Do you think we passed muster?" asked Diedre on the phone the next morning. "Yeah, I'm sure of it," was the answer she got.

Tuesday afternoon was the Junior League Sustainer's Tea at Joann Ringer's home on East Schantz. Traffic was blocked by the great turnout. Joann's home and spring gardens looked beautiful and her house had lots of room for all those gals.

Gretchen Beust, Carol

Dickerson, Marty Ebeling, and Maribeth Graham were there. When Patty Edmonson was 'recognized' she stood to say 'thanx' and apologized..."my kids always say I cry when I'm happy...and I'm delighted with your honoring me!"

Ann Herr, Mary Hornbeck, Laurie Keller, Barb O'Hare, and Rita Price, Phyllis Thompson, and Chris Vradelis were found near the fabulous buffet table. Chris Saunders said she will be conducting another trip to Russia very soon. Joyce Young was another of the honorees. Jennifer Kane, president of the Junior League, was there as was Jenni Roer the Sustainer's Rep. A Sustainer's dinner followed at Dayton Country Club.

"Come over for 'coffee' this morning...I want to hear about your trip to Israel," said Laurence Warwar. And 'Round Town heard so many fascinating facts about Israel that only could be learned from Laurence, who's ancestors go back untold generations to when Lebanon encompassed what is now Israel. "I'll show you pictures of a large building in Jerusalem that my grandfather built...and the church built over 'Mary's Well' (scene of the 'annunciation'). The church was built by my great grandfather and he's buried there. All was appropriated in '48"

Hello Dolly opened Thursday evening at Wright State University. As you know their productions are always "...better than anything you've ever seen on Broadway." And this Hello Dolly was better than the one we saw with Carol Channing years ago in NYC! You've got to go! It'll be running next week – Thursday through Sun – better call for tickets first thing Monday.

And before the show several gals went to 'Smashburger' – a new spot in that new-ish building built by UD at the corner of Brown and Stewart Streets. – 'Smashburger' is around the back off Stewart.

"That Day in May' hadda 'Pancake Breakfast' Saturday morning at the Oakwood High School cafeteria. It was mobbed and everyone was well fortified for the exciting day.

And the Wright Library Board of Directors invited all the Friends of the Library to walk with them and the Library staff in the 'That Day in May' parade.

Oakwood had a 'Preakness Party'. The excitement for the 135th running at Pimlico was all about who would win and would the horse have two legs toward the Triple Crown! And, no there will be no 'Triple Crown'. 'Super Saver' had not saved enough 'super juice' from the Derby. He ran eighth! And the favorite from the Derby was 'Luck-ier' in the Preakness. And his new jockey will not have to work over a hot stove anytime soon. Marty Ohmer had the winning ticket on 'Lucky'. And the hostess on Oakwood Ave. held the 'show' ticket on 'Jackson Bend'. Carolyn Uecker & Mike brought their dog – and she spent her time in Houk Stream with 'Miss Fraser'.

Breast self-exams very important After Prom Thanks

I'm a breast cancer survivor, currently undergoing chemotherapy, and I'm here to tell you to examine your breasts! That's how I found my lump and that's how my whole journey began.

Last November, a federal medical panel advised against mammograms for women younger than 50, saying it is not worth subjecting some patients to unnecessary biopsies, radiation and stress. How ironic. I wish that I had been subjected to this stress when I first found my lump at 44 years old. I wish I'd been given a biopsy instead of being dismissed as too young and healthy.

The same independent panel also recommended against teaching women to do regular self-exams and concluded that there is insufficient evidence to recommend that doctors do exams. Again, how ironic. If I had not done a self-breast exam, I'd still have a cancerous lump in my breast.

One in eight women (or 12 percent of all women) will develop breast cancer during their lifetime. Everyone knows someone who is battling it. The numbers are too big to ignore, and we've made so much progress towards finding a cure.

We can't turn back the clock on the war against breast cancer. Breast cancer death rates have been dropping steadily since 1990 because of earlier detection and better treatments. So, I say to my sisters-in-arms, examine your breasts. And don't let anyone tell you not to.

Nutrition program offered

If any Oakwood citizens are concerned about the effects of the modern industrial diet on their health, the health of their families, their communities, or the planet Earth in general, the following might be of interest: I recently finished hosting an extraordinary series of discussions on a topic called "Menu for the Future," and I believe that other Oakwood citizens would enjoy this one-hour-a-week, seven-week program. It involves small group conversations that follow a non-consensus, equal-participation format based on readings of short excerpts from writings of the best food and nutrition writers in the U.S. The program is purely educational and makes possible a mannerly way to explore our social values with regard to modern food choices. It is an amazing, enriching, and life-altering course. It costs only $20 and that is for the program guide. I am looking forward to hosting another session this summer, so if anyone is interested, give me a call at 294-3836.

Response to Mr. Burnett's letter (May 4 issue)

Sir,

As far as I know, the "tree care alternative to the DP&L contractors" is YOU. If indeed your trees on your property were carelessly trimmed by DP&L contractors, your trees were probably encroaching on DP&L lines located on a legal easement on your property. Just as DP&L has the right to protect their property (the lines), you have the right to do the same, by finding and hiring a qualified landscaping company to maintain your property. If trees on city property have been likewise damaged, then shame on our "Tree City USA" for letting DP&L trim when they know the job done by the electrical utility will serve the purpose of keeping the lines free, rather than keeping the trees healthy and aesthetically pleasing.

I seem to recall a few years back, a strong storm blowing through with massive damage and power outages. Many of the folks who lost power were indignant that they had to suffer such a consequence. Not very many of those same people had their trees trimmed in recent memory. Yes, it can be expensive when one has magnificent mature trees on their property - but it is a homeowner's responsibility, just like frequent mowing, periodic pruning and mulching, and the occasional gallon of paint - build it into your budget. Trees grow constantly and need to be periodically trimmed. Schedule it every couple of years and you won't have a problem with others taking care of it for you with less-than-satisfactory results.

Real Money, Real World program May 20

As adults, each of us works hard to make our monthly income cover the necessities and still have a little left over at the end of the month. Wouldn't it be great if we could have had a "trial run" at adult spending decisions while we were still young and able to choose our future career?

That's the idea behind Real Money, Real World, a program supported by OSU Extension that allows middle and high school students to get a taste of adult life. Real Money, Real World helps youth realize that career choice, education, and potential lifestyle are related," said Christine F. Olinsky, Montgomery County Extension Educator. "It's a way for students to see firsthand how expenses for necessities, as well as luxuries, must be balanced with the reality of monthly income."

Here's how Real Money, Real World works: Students participate in pre-simulation class activities focusing on career considerations and decision-making. They choose an occupation and receive a monthly gross salary for that occupation. They determine net income by deducting taxes, FICA, savings, and health care insurance. Students are also given a family composition. They then proceed through the Real Money, Real World simulation.

The popularity of Real Money, Real World is growing. The next Real Money, Real World will be on Thursday, May 20 at Oakwood High School. For details about the program at Oakwood High School, contact Jamie Walker at (walker.jamie@oakwoodschoools.org).

Special Education parents meeting May 27

The final parent meeting for special education students of the 2009-10 school year will be held on Thursday, May 27, from 7-8 p.m. Our topic will be "District Technology Resources", which will include a review of the district website, teacher links, ODE and parent mentor websites. We will meet in the Oakwood High School Library/Media Center. If you have any questions, please contact Pam Taiclet, Director of Educational Services at 937-297-7802. We look forward to seeing you!

OHS track wins second place SWBL trophy

By H.W. Sizek

Saturday at Monroe High School the Oakwood track team competed in the Southwestern Buckeye League Track and Field Championship. Both the girls and the boys were second in the team competitions. Several Oakwood athletes set Southwest League Conference Records.

The Jills started the meet with a conference championship performance in the 4x800m relay. Running the relay were Ericha Griep, Kiara Connelly, Kim Eldridge and Chelsea Bolger. The Jills closed the meet with another conference championship in the 4x400m relay setting a new SWBL record at 4:03.88. The winning team of M.E. Labrie, Olivia Ireland, Bria Meade, and Kelsey McDonald broke the record set last year by Milton Union by almost five seconds. Other conference champions from Oakwood include Maddie Maney in the 800m run. Maney was also second in the 1600 and 3200m runs. Kelsey McDonald ran the 400m and broke the old Southwest League record by more than a second and a half. McDonald was third in the 100m and 200m dashes. Olivia Ireland was third in the 400m dash and M.E. Labrie was sixth in the 200m dash. The 4x200m relay team of

Local garden selected for Smithsonian archives

Lifelong gardener Ellie Shulman has been recently chosen to have her four-season garden on Schenck Avenue in Oakwood documented by the Smithsonian Institution's Archives of American Gardens. Last Friday, Mrs. Schulman opened her garden to two local garden clubs: The Garden Club of Dayton and the Four Seasons Garden Club. According to Mrs. Shulman, the peonies and roses are in the best bloom time of the season. Her garden has been a labor of love for over 45 years.

The documentation process will be carried out by volunteers from the Garden Club of Dayton which is an affiliate of The Garden Club of America. It will include photographs of the garden in all four seasons, information on the garden, its history, design inspirations, overall layout and plan.

The Smithsonian's Archives of American Gardens(AAG) serves as a repository for documentation of historic and contemporary gardens throughout the U.S. Over 80,000 images and related material documenting more than 6,000 gardens has been acquired since AAG's creation in 1987. These valuable resources are retained in permanent files maintained by AAG staff.

One of AAG's primary goals is to make its informational resources available to researchers, landscape designers, garden enthusiasts and the general public for a variety of educational purposes. To make these collections readily accessible, AAG has placed many of its garden images on the internet as part of the Smithsonian Institution Research Information System(SIRIS) at www.siris.si.edu.

High tea fundraiser for Peace Museum May 23

Red Oak, the gracious, Tudor-style Hook Estate home of philanthropist and producer Beth Duke, will be the site of a High Tea Salon to raise programming funds for the Dayton International Peace Museum, on Sunday, May 23, from 2:30 to 5 p.m. A three-course tea of scones, savories and sweets will be offered. Guests will enjoy an unusual array of entertainment, including performances by several local pianists, a horse-and-rider dressage demonstration, house tours and a few surprises. The wearing of hats, in the English tradition, is encouraged.

The Peace Museum is known locally for its violence prevention work in the community, and internationally for promoting friendship and dialogue among people of different countries and cultures.

A tax-deductible contribution of $40 to reserve a place at the High Tea will help the Peace Museum continue its important

16th Cherry Pie Concert slated May 25

What do these Oakwood High grads have in common: Siobhan Tellez, Boston College; Lauren Sobol, The Ohio State U; Colleen Judge, Princeton; Justin Quenneville, Miami U; Riley Hignite, Wright

State; David and Annie Wang, Harvard; Kira Fenstermacher, St. Olaf College; Dacey Jackson, Notre Dame; Julia Sizek, U of Chicago; and Nick Hác, U of Michigan?

They have all joined the Oakwood High School Orchestra's Facebook page in anticipation of this year's Cherry Pie Concert. Chris Wolcott, an OHS grad now attending Clemson University, created the page in anticipation of this year's Cherry Pie concert. All past, present, and future Oakwood Orchestra members and their parents and anyone else who is a fan are welcome to join.

"Most of us played Ode to Joy every May starting in grade four through the time we were seniors," explained Chris. "It's our tradition; it brings back memories of good friends and a simpler time in our lives – before we had the pressures associated with college life and employment."

Nan Watson, OHS's orchestra teacher, is thrilled that students return to the concert each year. "It's our official, unofficial strings reunion," said Watson. "Some students bring their instruments and play the one piece they all know by heart and other come just to reconnect and eat pie." Watson promised she'll not notice stiff fingers nor missed notes, "It's just so inspiring for young musicians to see the graduates who care enough to support the concert."

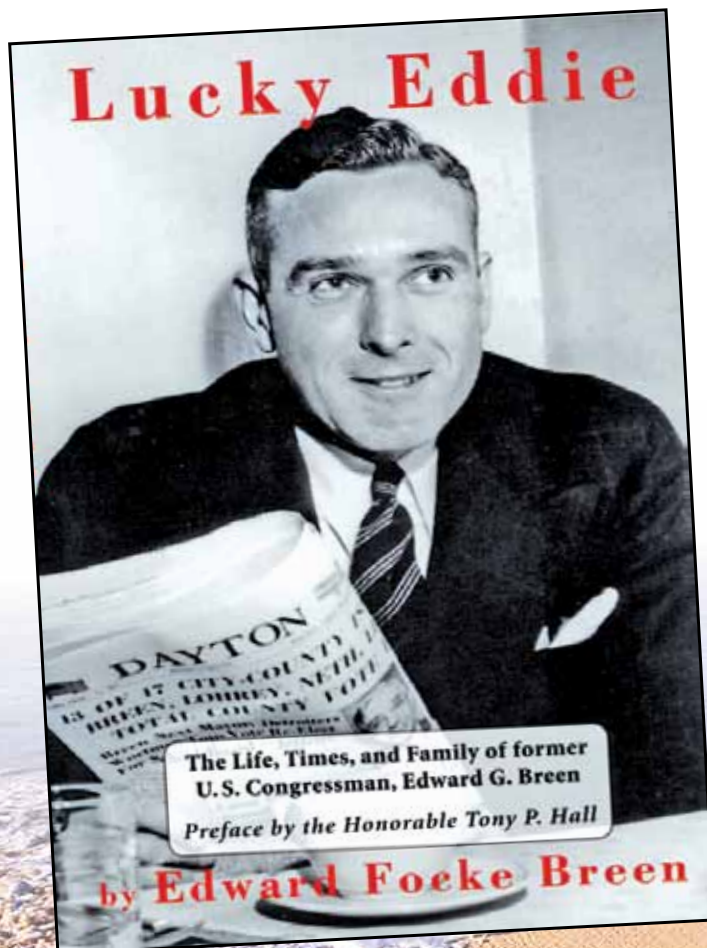

Orchestra alumni are asked to join the orchestra in playing the "Ode" and then visit with other alumni at the designated "alumni" table in the west gym for pie.

The 16th Annual Cherry Pie Concert takes place on Tuesday, May 25 at 7 p.m. in the Oakwood High School Auditorium. Over 200 orchestra students in the district will participate. The concert is free and the public is invited.

The astonishing story of one man and one family who went from hard-working immigrants to wealth and political power. It is a cultural history of America from the mid-19th through the mid-20th centuries. The central character and his family encountered those who were shaping ideas and history, including Ohio Governor and newspaper magnate Jim Cox, Aviator Amelia Earhart, Presidents Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy, Miss America and many more.

OHS Band spring concert May 26

The community is invited to hear the band performing their state contest pieces on Wednesday, May 26 at 7 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The jazz bands and concert bands from the junior and senior high will perform. The audience is invited to attend a reception in the high school cafeteria after the concert.

The Oakwood High School Band received the rating "Excellent" at the Ohio Music Education Association state contest on Friday, April 30. The band was evaluated by a three-judge panel on stage performance and a single judge in sight reading. The compilation the four scores resulted in the band achieving an overall excellent rating.

The spring concert will also feature the Oakwood Band Awards. Director Ron Nelson will award the Frederick R. Walker Award and the national John Philip Sousa Award, which is voted on by the members of the band. In addition, the Oakwood Band Parents Association will award a $1000 scholarship to a graduating senior.

The Mikado combines 'musicality and verve'

Burt Sidel

Dayton Opera's Impresario Tom Bankston has a new version of his customary magic. He is celebrated for producing great operas with spirited casts. For the final offering of this season, Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado, Tom found another operatic magician to bring his company to Dayton.

The New York Gilbert and Sullivan Players were founded and are directed by Albert Bergeret. He is the very embodiment of the heritage of D'Oyly Carte's preservation and presentation of the works of the genius of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Perhaps the most cogent praise of Maestro Bergeret came from DSO Principal French horn Robert Johnson. As I entered the Schuster for a rehearsal, he told me that "Playing in the pit under Bergeret is like playing Mahler under Bernstein." This is high praise, indeed!

Experiencing the company and the vital leadership of Maestro Bergeret, I agree completely. Gilbert and Sullivan's remarkable operettas occupy a summit of musical theater. They demand total devotion to the masterful musical tale-telling which is well-laced with sharp satire, riotous comedy and truly beautiful music.

This company lives G&S. They love G&S. They become the characters of G&S. Many of the company members have long tenure; others are new faces but all exhibit the freshness and élan of youth and joy.

The Mikado requires that special sauce. It flowed from the stage into the audience unabated. The company members are opera singers who have the voices and turn this talent to portray the timeless G&S characters. As the Mikado, Keith Jurosko, in his 30th season, radiated that feeling. He proved that a fine bass-baritone fits into the maze of words of the typical G&S patter-song.

The same is true of Laurelyn Watson Chase as the lovely Yum-Yum. Her ringing soprano certainly made the handsome Nanki-Poo of Cameron Smith fall in love with her – as did the rest of the audience.

The total result was a Mikado done the way it was meant to be performed. Singing with the perfect combination of musicality and verve, the familiar songs radiated. The precise choreography highlighted the very active chorus.

To keep the heritage of great satire alive and well, the lyrics reflected today as well as the yesterday of Victorian England. As the hapless executioner Ko-Ko, David Macaluso, included today's references in his great song, "I've got a little list." No one escaped his pseudo-revenge for being troublesome or boring. That included botox ladies, Republicans and Democrats and yes, even Sarah Palin.

I spoke with several company members. Melissa Attebury as a sprightly Pitti-Sing and Richard Alan Holmes as the mock serious Pish-Tush, both had great praise for our magnificent opera house and our orchestra. I give them, and all the company, the same great praise for bringing the very essence of Gilbert and Sullivan to Dayton.

Dayton Playhouse's Gypsy

Dayton Playhouse has carved a special niche in the regional theater offerings they perform. Fearlessly they present musicals with large casts, elaborate sets and orchestral accompaniment.

Always full of zest and verve, never perfect, the shows are good entertainment. The schedule is challenging. This month, they have mounted Gypsy. Next month, Guys and Dolls and then on to FutureFest. My question? Do the devoted playhouse volunteers ever sleep?

Gypsy is Laurents and Sondheim's 1959 homage to Gypsy Rose Lee, the striptease icon of the time and her megadysfunctional family. It is full of good music (Sondheim was still writing real songs back then) and interesting action.

The cast was led by two stunning performances. As the ur-stage mother and relentless woman, Rose, Renee Franck Reed made her character live and made all others suffer. As her daughter Louise who became Gypsy Rose, former DCDC dancer, beautiful Susanne Payne, added a new dimension to her dossier of talents.

Director Brian Sharp moved the agon of the play into this century. He scuttled the "Broadway happy ending." Momma Rose, previously neglected Louise and favored sister June, who became film actress June Havoc, no longer go hand in hand to a party at final curtain. Their mutual disdain remains unabated as homage to the truth.

The truth remains that Dayton Playhouse is on a roll – so keep rolling!

Aullwood Nature Center

A visit to Aullwood Nature Center is always a revelation. The vision of Marie Aull is alive and well in the beautiful acres of nature trails, farm settings and the inspiring Nature Center.

The visitor is treated to all manner of exhibits, live, stuffed and photographed. Our wild-life friends abound. What also abounds is the spirit of how we can, and should, live to appreciate and celebrate the gifts our world bestows on us. Executive Director Charity Krueger and Development Director Ardith Hamilton are most visible in their dedication and enthusiasm. Beware, their passion is contagious!

I was able to hear the latest in the never-ending stream of improvements and enhancements to their wonderful programs. The Aullwood farm is getting a major addition. Children and adults can experience farm life and how greening of our world can be beautiful and necessary.

The expanding outreach programs extend into every corner of our greater community. The goals are clear - make nature a part of intercity lives. The results continue to astound.

Writing for my Oakwood readers, I urge you to take the trip north and join in this magnificent experiment. You can say, "Mother Nature sent me!" For information and schedules call 937 890 7360.

2010 OHS Athletic Hall of Fame inductees named

The Oakwood High School Athletic Hall of Fame Committee is pleased to announce the third class of the Oakwood Athletic Hall of Fame. The following individuals will be inducted at a banquet at the Dayton Country Club on Thursday, Aug. 26, 2010:

Bob Servis, Class of 1933 - Bob was an outstanding athlete while at Oakwood. He lettered three years in basketball and baseball, and during his senior year served as the captain of the baseball team. He won the 1933 Ohio High School State Golf Championship, the Dayton City Match play (1933 and 1935) and five Ohio State Amateur Championships (1933-36, 1939-40, and 1947). Bob was inducted into the Ohio Golf Hall of Fame and was considered one of the best amateur golfers in the US for almost 20 years. Bob passed away on March 28, 1987.

Mike Creager, Class of 1961 - Mike lettered in football and track during his high school years at Oakwood. In football he was named to both all-league and all-district teams and held the Oakwood school record for touchdown receptions in a game and for career. He is also the only player from Oakwood to play in the North/South All-Star game since the game's inception in 1946. In track he held the shot put and discus school records, and placed sixth in state in the shot put during his senior year. Mike passed away in December 2009 after a courageous battle with cancer.

Carrie Roedersheimer Doerr, Class of 1987 - Carrie was a standout in both cross country and track while at Oakwood. As a freshman cross country runner, she placed second in SWBL, was a state qualifier, and was awarded the Coach's Award. In track, she held the school record in the 3200m and placed first in the 3200m in SWBL. During her sophomore year, she placed in SWBL cross country, and repeated as a state qualifier. In track she placed first at SWBL in the 3200m, fifth at regionals in the 3200m relay, and was voted MVP. As a junior, she placed fourth in SWBL cross country, and again was a state qualifier. Finally, in her senior year, Carrie was named all-Ohio in cross country, placed first at districts, second at regionals, and third in state. She also held the SWBL league record and school record for the 5000M.
