

Congressman meets with Oakwood Liberty Group

Congressman Jim Jordan met with Oakwood Liberty Group Monday, Aug. 24 at the Dayton Country Club to discuss the Cap and Trade Bill, Health Care Reform Bill, and how to best contact your representative. About 50 were in attendance to hear and ask questions from the Urbana native. Congressman Jordan has represented Ohio's 4th district since 2007. This was the Oakwood Liberty Group's first meeting. The purpose of Oakwood Liberty Group is to provide a positive and focused forum for discussion of current political issues. They are deeply concerned about the direction of our nation, and are equally frustrated with many of our politicians, from all political parties. They are a local non-partisan group, which is passionate about respecting the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Their ultimate goal is to educate themselves and others about current issues, to find respectful ways to have their individual and collective voices heard by their elected representatives, and to ultimately effect positive change. They believe in shrinking the size of government and lessening its influence in their daily lives. They also believe in encouraging fiscal responsibility. They are actively looking for new members. If you would like to join, or be invited to their next meeting, please contact them at oakwoodlibertygroup@yahoo.com

Sears Kit Home Classic
428 Hadley Avenue $119,000 firm

Great home, great neighborhood. Built in 1926, this two bedroom, one bath frame bungalow is a vintage Sears "Pittsburgh model" kit home, sought after by knowledgeable home buyers nationwide. Constructed entirely of first-generation hardwood lumber and double-walled design, this sturdy home offers both comfort and a Craftsman style to the prospective buyer.

Original yellow pine flooring first and second floor, one half finished basement, newer central air conditioning and furnace, water softener, original Sears clawfoot tub with shower, cast iron pedestal sink from historic Trace House, high speed Internet and cable, updated kitchen, covered front porch, detached one car garage, insulated attic. Great starter home.
